Sgt. Terry Owen, 27, a resident of Hope, was killed almost instantly about 10:30 last night when his car went out of control and overturned seven times on Highway 71, near the Red River bridge at Index. He was alone at the time of the accident.

He was enroute to Horatio where the family had been visiting Mrs. Owen's parents. The family was on its way to Hope tomorrow for a short stay before he was to leave for a new assignment with the Air Force at San Francisco.

He was a 1950 graduate of Hope High School and had been in the Air Force eight years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Martha Sue Owen, three daughters, Carolyn, 7, Terry Lynn, 5, and Patricia Diane six months; his mother, Mrs. Pearl Owen of Hope and a sister, Jo Jo Owen of Hope.

Asks Nation to Be Ready for Red Blackmail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. David W. Sarnoff called on the nation today for courage, sacrifice and preparedness to face up to what he called the Communist campaign of bluster and blackmail.

"The American cause has become inseparable from the cause of all mankind," he said in an address prepared for Veterans Day services at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

The ceremonies marked the first observance of the day since Unknowns of World War II and Korea were buried by the Unknown Soldier of World War I. The day marked the 40th anniversary of the World War I armistice, and the fifth observance of Veterans Day, established by Congress in 1954.

Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corp. of America, recalled the sacrifices made by American fighting men in those wars.

Little Rock Ponders What to Do in Event the School Board Simply Gives Up and Resigns

U. S. Government Owns Big Diamond

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hope diamond, a beautiful gem with a dark past, belonged to the U. S. government today.

Officials of the Smithsonian Institution hoped to build a national jewel collection, with the 44 1/2 carat stone as a nucleus.

A gift of New York gem merchant Harry Winston, the diamond arrived here by registered mail, insured for one million dollars.

After the dark blue diamond was delivered to the Smithsonian by a postman under guard, it was formally presented by Mrs. Winston. The fabled Hope was accepted by Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the institution.

The Hope was smuggled out of India about 300 years ago. Since then, it has passed through many hands. A number of its owners died violently and it acquired a reputation of bringing ill fortune.

Cuban Group Surprised Loading Arms

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Federal agents surprised nearly two dozen Cuban rebel sympathizers in the act of loading munitions aboard a plane and charged 22 persons with violating the Neutrality Act.

Two women were among the group seized with an arms-laden B18 bomber on abandoned Prospect Air Field Monday night.

Border Patrol agents blasted a fleeing auto's tire with machine gun bullets, preventing the getaway of five of their prisoners.

The airplane pilot, who identified himself as Roger Steadman, 41, of Miami, a native of Huron, S.D., fled in a truck but was arrested later at Fort Lauderdale bus station.

Agents said a big assortment of rifles, machine guns, ammunition, medical supplies, boots and field equipment were placed aboard the plane as they watched from concealment.

Some of the material was in packages marked "Fidel." Fidel Castro heads the rebel army which dominates much of Cuba's Oriente Province.

There was no immediate word on where the plane came from or who owned it. Agents said the last owner of available record was the Bank of Anchorage, Alaska.

South Florida has been the scene of numerous daring attempts to supply Castro's forces.

Big Decline in Industrial Jobs Predicted

LITTLE ROCK (IBA)—Arkansas expect a decline in new industrial jobs during the next two years, Winthrop Rockefeller said yesterday.

Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, made his prediction in an appearance before the Arkansas Legislative Council.

Without mentioning the state's racial troubles, Rockefeller said he was basing his view on declining business conditions. He added that other states were in the same position.

He said that the AIDC now is working on about 300 industrial prospects and that three or four of the firms might announce before the first of the year plans to move to Arkansas.

The state's industrialization program was mentioned at several points in the council's budget hearings yesterday.

"At one point Rep. John F. Beibel of Prairie County expressed the opinion that out-of-state capitalists were exploiting Arkansas' mineral wealth."

He asked State Geologist Norman P. Williams if there was any way his staff could run tests to locate oil deposits and pass the information on to Arkansas. "Businessmen so they can move in before outside capital does."

Williams replied that about the only way to find oil was to drill holes in the ground and that he said, was an expensive operation.

Later Beibel said he believed some northern politicians were happy over Arkansas' racial unrest because they thought it would stop some of their industries from locating in Arkansas.

In answer to a complaint from Rep. Raymond L. Mays of Cleveland County that the University of Arkansas Industrial Research and Extension Center was hiring too many outsiders, Dr. Lewis Robinson said it was impossible to find qualified Arkansians for some of the agency's jobs.

Rockefeller, university trustee, said he knew of no businessmen who had left the center for higher paying jobs in other states.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — What happens to a community's schools when its school board quits? Who operates the schools? These questions face Little Rock today.

Five of the six members of the school board have discussed resigning en masse, thus escaping their integration "hot seat."

Wayne Upton, board president, said the group would meet officially today — ostensibly to discuss the latest federal court ruling ordering integration at once in Little Rock's public schools.

But if the board resigns, who is left to handle the routine duties—such as signing paychecks—much less to attempt to carry out yesterday's edict by the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals? And, should the board stay on, how can it integrate schools which are not operating?

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock's four high schools to avoid integration. He has shown no inclination to reopen them.

If the board should resign, the power to appoint a new one apparently rests with the County Board of Education. But County Supervisor A. B. Wetherington said he is not sure just who can appoint a new school board.

When a single vacancy occurs, the board itself makes the selection.

If the number of members is reduced below quorum, that becomes a different matter.

At one time, the matter rested in the hands of the county judge, Wetherington said, however, he thinks the appointing power may have been given to the County Board of Education in 1942.

A recent legislative act which authorized recall of school board members provided that the vacancies would be filled by the county judge until the next school election.

Wetherington said the law does not provide for resignation en masse.

If the present board quits, Little Rock voters would have the opportunity of installing a new slate at the regular school election Dec. 8.

Normally, only three of the members would be up for re-election.

So far only one candidate has announced for a board position — James T. Karam, a Little Rock clothier. This could be an indication that not to many people are willing to assume the board's responsibility in the integration dispute.

Harold J. Engstrom Jr., a member who has announced he will not seek re-election, said yesterday "...our actions have been misunderstood and my efforts to help improve education at this time have failed."

"The removal of no one personally or group of personalities will in my opinion solve the problem, but in the confusion and frustration of the moment I believe that I would add more to the problem."

Both the school board and School Supt. Virgil Blossom have been under heavy segregationist fire since the outbreak of the school crisis here last year. Blossom is recognized as the architect of the city's gradual integration plan, and a majority of the board has never wavered in backing the stand of the superintendent.

Only Dr. Dale Alford, the school board member who unseated Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), a racial moderate, in the general election, has disagreed with the board majority.

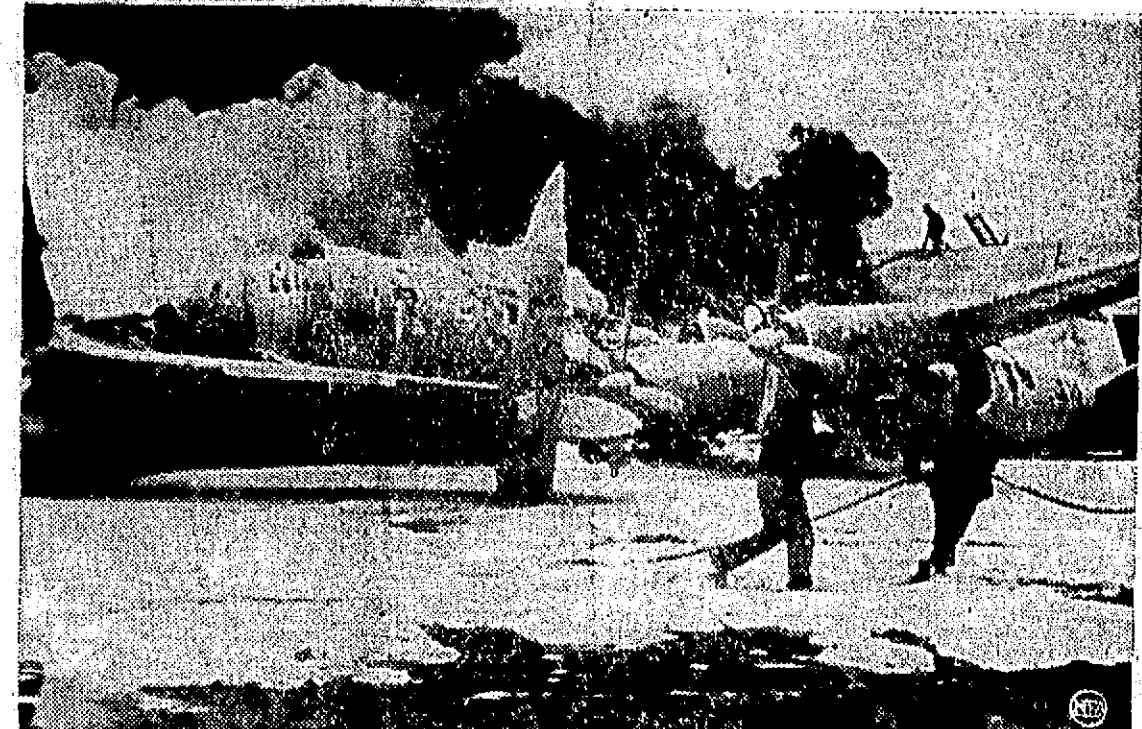

There is speculation that Blossom soon will be fired and that the board will buy up Blossom's contract which still has 18 months at $100 a month to run.

Yesterday, the Women's Emergency Committee to Open Our Schools sent telegrams to four members of the school board. The two who did not receive the wires were Alford and Engstrom.

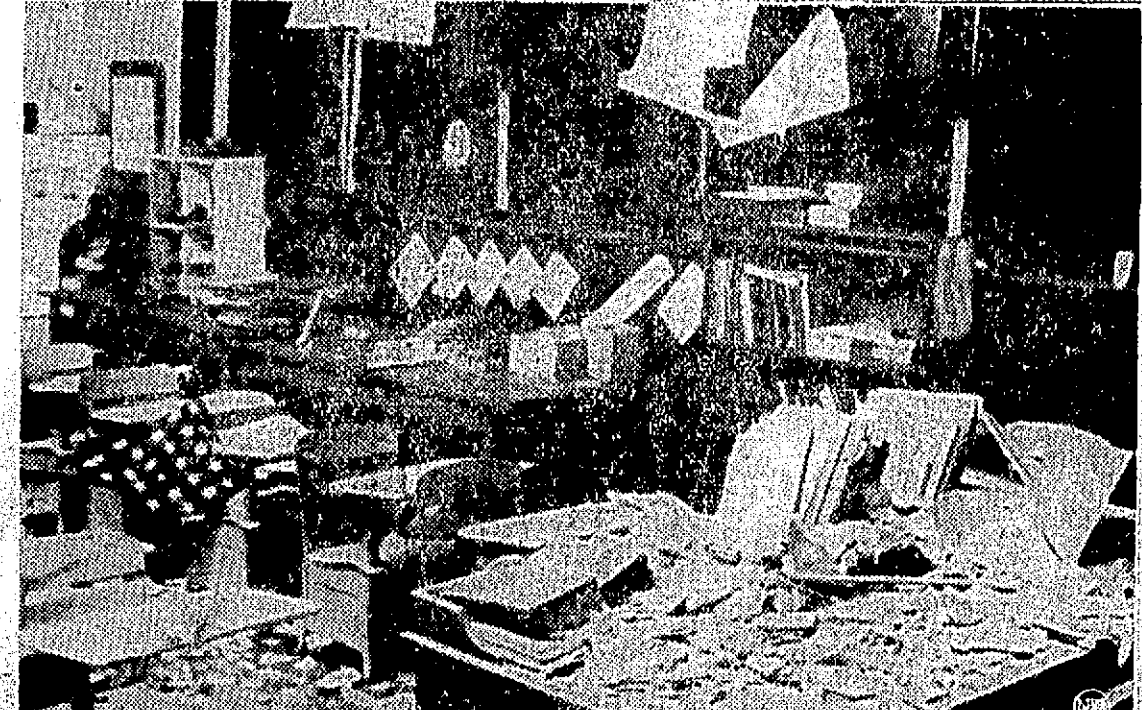

"We urge your continued support of our proud school traditions," the telegrams read. "Our committee and our teachers need the dedication you have demonstrated. If the Little Rock public school system, one of the country's best, is to survive, we cannot afford the loss of qualified leadership."

The women's committee, supporters of integration in the recent Little Rock referendum called after Faubus shut the high schools. The city voted heavily for segregation.

IDLEWILD CRASH — A twisted tangle of wreckage is all that remains of a cargo plane and a parked passenger plane it plowed into at Idlewild Airport in New York. The cargo plane exploded on takeoff, lost a wing and two engines, then skidded more than 300 yards before slamming into the parked plane, the only barrier between the burning cargo plane and the crowded terminal building. — NEA Telephone

New Frat Is Organized at Texarkana

A group of Texarkana College students has recently formed the first fraternity in the history of the college. It will be known as Delta Sig.

Officers elected November 8, to serve until December 1959 are: President, James E. Cornelius, rope; Vice President, George Hulse, secretary; Douglas Yates, Treasurer; L. W. Pittman and Jimmy, President Joe Mills, all of Texarkana.

Active members of the Parliamentary are: Gary Huskey of Blevis, Sam Spearman of Atlanta, Texas, Ben Chalker, Arthur Kackley, Carl Maylindale and John Humphrey, of Texarkana; Bob Stoll of Hooks, Wendell Shackelford of Houston and Max A. Calhoun of Prescott.

Negotiations have begun to obtain a Fraternity House and President Cornelius stated this morning that thirty pledges will be accepted next semester.

Plans for the first Rush Party have been tentatively set for the first week following Thanksgiving. Pledges will be chosen on the basis of their character, social standing, scholarship and leadership.

Says Nation Must Be Strong Scientifically

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's chief scientific adviser said today the nation must make a greater effort to achieve the scientific strength it needs for survival.

"Already some of the spurt that followed Sputnik has lost its force," Dr. James R. Killian Jr. said in a speech prepared for the American Assn. of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities.

He said there is need for improving government policy making and for giving more and better training in the universities to future scientists and engineers.

Charges a Mother With Killing Child

HOUSTON (AP)—Police charged a young mother with murdering her 4-year-old daughter, one of three children in the family who have died since 1956 of what was listed as pneumonia.

They accused Mrs. Iris Conrad, 19, of suburban Bellaire with killing the infant by "throwing her down on the floor." The child, ship.

All Around Town

Except for a few flags and a few "closed" businesses everything was about as usual in downtown Hope on this Veterans Day observance. Of course there is no parking meter charge today.

Wednesday, Nov. 12, at Little Rock at a statewide Agri-Business conference John Randolph, Hope, manager of Corn Belt Hatchery, is one of several to discuss the poultry industry in Arkansas.

The YFW will hold a very important meeting Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Jack King, president, urges all members to be present at the Booster Club meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Band Building.

Some very important business has to be taken care of at this session.

Maryaret Ann Archer, Hope, junior at Southern Methodist, has been named associate editor of Roundup, the SMU yearbook.

Air Pollution Is a Cancer Suspect

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists suspect that air pollution may be causing some kinds of fatal cancers.

On the basis of studies, they also feel such pollution, worst in cities, may speed death in certain heart disease cases.

The possible relationship between air pollution and mortality from cancer and heart disease was discussed in a booklet made public Monday by the Public Health Service.

Expanding on that report, Dr. Richard A. Prindle said "there is definitely more cancer of certain types in urban areas, and more heart disease of the arteriosclerotic type and other kinds."

Prindle, chief of the air pollution study program, added that "we can't say air pollution causes the heart disease but it seems to hasten death of those affected by heart disease."

The Health Service booklet, prepared for a national conference on air pollution next week, said mortality for a number of diseases—especially heart, all kinds of cancer and of the stomach, lung and esophagus—was markedly higher among city dwellers than among rural people.

Brucker Warns Of a Future Red Cold War

WELCH, W. Va. (AP) — Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker said today that the aim of the Soviet Union build-up in capability for "limited" war is to bring about "worldwide" war.

In an address prepared for a Veterans' Day ceremony here, Brucker said Soviet propagandists insist that any local war inevitably would expand to worldwide proportions.

"Yet concurrently, the Soviets have strengthened their own capabilities for limited war. The Soviet bloc has more than eight million men under arms. The Soviet Union has some 500 submarines and 25,000 operational aircraft," he said.

"Soviet ground forces have been completely reorganized and re-equipped since World War II, and great improvements have been made in their mobility, their firepower and their communications."

He implied that the Soviet Union is obviously calculated to block the free nations into inaction.

ALC Urged Not to Make a Poll of the Arkansas Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council was asked by a member today to call off a scheduled poll of the state's public school teachers on their attitude toward a controversial resolution.

Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock said the resolution calling for inflexible preservation of the public school system had been repudiated school system had been repudiated last week.

The resolution, which also provided for creation of so-called watchdog committees to urge retention of public schools under any circumstances, was adopted by the Arkansas Education Assn.

Snellton of the resolution angered some Legislative Council members. They charged it had been shoved through at the AEA convention in Little Rock before delegates realized its import.

Although integration was not mentioned, the resolution apparently was aimed against further closing of schools in the current racial dispute.

Howell said the money to be expended on the poll could be put to better use elsewhere. He said a large number of teachers had telephoned him and protested the AEA resolution.

The senator temporarily withdrew the suggestion for dropping the poll when other Council members pointed out that Sen. Roy Rineer of Menard, who authored the motion for a teacher poll, was absent.

Rineer is making a tour with Gov. Orval E. Faubus. He is scheduled to return tomorrow and Howell's motion is expected to be considered then.

The topic arose as the Council met to take up budget requests of several state-supported schools.

Council approval was given to the regular budget of the School for the Deaf, School for the Blind and the Negro School for the Blind and Deaf at about the same level as two years ago. However, the Council indicated it would consider later the schools' requests for supplemental funds.

The Deaf School sought an increase from $205,000 to $358,000 a year, the Blind School wanted $201,000 instead of the previous $165,000 a year and the Negro Blind and Deaf School requested a boost from $75,000 to $98,500. All three budgets included moderate salary increases for most personnel.

Budget requests of Arkansas Tech, Arkansas State Teachers College and Henderson State Teachers College also were on the agenda.

Yesterday the council approved budget increases for two state agencies but took a tight-fisted attitude toward five, including three connected with the state's industrialization program.

The departments which won recommendations for increased budgets were the State Penitentiary and the Insurance Department, which sought pay raises for almost all employees.

The council agreed to recommend that the 1959 Legislature appropriate the Penitentiary $2,458,000 for the 1959-60 biennium, compared to $2,008,164 for the current biennium. The Insurance Department's recommended budget of $168,000 compared to the current $163,000.

Pay raises were approved for Penitentiary Supt. Lee Henslee from $8,000 to $9,200 a year, and Insurance Commissioner Harvey C. Combs, $8,500 to $10,000.

The council turned down pay raises in approving a $2,199,800 a year budget for the Arkansas Teachers' Sanatorium at Booneville and $411,059 a year for the McRae Memorial Sanatorium for Negroes at McRae. The Booneville institution would receive $15,000 a year more for drugs and McRae $2,080 a year more.

"The Booneville sanatorium was to be resubmitted as a separate budget requested $127,000 to finance construction of a nurses' home and a staff residence and remodeling of a dormitory."

The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, with its chairman Winthrop Rockefeller on hand, submitted two proposals. The second, a supplemental proposal to its main budget.

The AIDC's budget requests of $504,460 for 1959 and $498,650 for 1960 were approved but the council failed to consider the supplemental request. The latter would have included pay raises for nine employees $80,000 a year more for advertising and $25,000 a year more for special meetings and films.

The AIDC budget for the current fiscal year was $590,400.

The University of Arkansas, in the field of Research and Extension, and the Geological and Conservation Commission were told to go along with budgets similar to last year's.

Faubus Offers No Help in a 3rd Party Push

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus offers Southern proponents of a third party little hope of his help in any such movement.

Faubus said yesterday it was impossible for him to foresee a situation in which he would desert the Democratic Party. The circumstances would have to be drastic, he said.

"The Democratic Party belongs to me as much as it does to Paul Butler and I don't think Butler is in any position to speak for the entire party," Faubus said.

He was referring to Butler's recent remarks that Southern Democrats must accept the party's platform, including its stand on civil rights, or find another party.

Faubus spoke at a press conference a few hours before he addressed a mass meeting of the Citizens Council.

He said there will be no compromise on the Little Rock situation "as long as the federal government maintains its attitude of integration at any cost."

He said the private schools set up to accommodate the children affected by the closing of schools in Little Rock, in the integration battle will remain open.

He said he cannot envision the federal government ordering the private schools closed.

Faubus said he will consult with his lawyers to determine the content of yesterday's ruling by the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis. The court directed the Little Rock School Board to take positive steps to accomplish integration, but did not spell out how it should be done.

Rineer is making a tour with Gov. Orval E. Faubus. He is scheduled to return tomorrow and Howell's motion is expected to be considered then.

Beck Defense Being Formed in Tax Trial

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Dave Beck's defense in his income tax evasion trial will be that he took non-taxable union funds "in a rather peculiar way" and became rich, his lawyers disclosed Monday.

William Dwyer, of Beck's team of defense attorneys, said in an opening statement to a federal court jury that the ex-boss of the Teamsters Union got into trouble through "sloppy" handling of union money.

But he did no wrong where his taxes were concerned, Dwyer said.

Beck's long-awaited trial opened Monday in U.S. District Court and a jury of eight men and four women was seated with unexpected speed.

The one-time Seattle laundry truck driver, who rose to one of the nation's most powerful labor bosses, is charged with defrauding the government out of $240,000 in income taxes for the years 1950-53.

Dwyer told the jury that when Beck takes the stand he will show he took $380,000 in Teamsters funds over a period of years, invested the money and eventually repaid it — becoming wealthy in the process.

He said the 64-year-old Beck treated the union money as a loan, but the defense lawyer did not directly call it a loan.

"Beck took the money in a rather peculiar way — an informal way, and it was this informality that got him into this difficulty. These were the dealings of a self-confident, self-educated man. This is what brought about the well-known downfall of Mr. Beck," Dwyer said.

The $380,000 figured prominently in questioning of Beck at Senate Rackets Investigating Committee hearings. The committee

Bridges Lists Plan to Stem GOP Revolt

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A counter proposal by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) took some of the fire out of a growing revolt by the Senate's Republican liberals to day.

With the liberals demanding a greater voice in Republican affairs, Bridges proposed to expand the GOP leadership jobs to three and include a liberal in one of the posts.

The New Hampshire senator said in a telephone interview that he will discuss his proposal with President Eisenhower and Arkana and Nashville.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bratcher, Mrs. Mettie Robinson and Mrs. Tim McClelland spent a part of last week in Fayetteville where Mr. Bratcher attended a termite extermination school.

Bill Anderson, student at Southern State College spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson.

Miss Annette McDougald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reese McDougald, former Prescott residents, has been selected one of the 20 upper classmen at Harding College to be listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Vice President Nixon next month.

Bridges, who heads the GOP Policy Committee, announced also he will support a move to give Republican newcomers—as well as holdover liberals—at least one important committee assignment each.

In the past, new GOP senators have been relegated to membership on minor committees, with assignments made on a basis of strict seniority. Under the leadership of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democrats have modified the seniority custom to put each new member on at least one top flight committee.

If it is adopted, the Bridges proposal would give such new senators as Kenneth E. Keating of New York and Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania important posts at the beginning of their Senate careers.

It also would move up to more important committee jobs members like Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York and Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who were elected two years ago.

The possibility of harvesting choice committee assignments seemed likely to ease some of the liberals' other complaints against the solidly conservative GOP Senate leadership.

Apparently lacking the votes to keep Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois from succeeding Sen. William F. Knowland as GOP leader, the liberals had been working quietly to pick off second place in the lineup. Their goal was to place one of their number in the group that confers weekly with Eisenhower on legislative matters.

It remains to be seen whether the liberals will settle for a third-string job without a fight.

Truck Driver Turned Into Human Torch

ATLANTA (AP)—A truck driver was turned into a flaming torch and severely burned by a home-made fire bomb tossed into the cab of his truck shortly after he drove away from a strike sound steel plant Monday.

Edwin Linwood Gosselt of nearby Hampton leaped from the truck and ripped off his flaming clothes. A passenger in the truck leaped to safety and was uninjured.

Patrolman R. L. Rhodes, who escorted the truck load of steel from the Atlantic Steel Co., said the fire bomb apparently was thrown from behind some bushes along the street.

Gosselt had just driven from the plant with a load of steel for his employer, the Southern States Equipment Corp., of Hampton.

The Atlantic Steel Co. was closed Oct. 31 by a strike that idled about 1,400 workers.

Gosselt was taken to his home after hospital treatment. The strike, said President Howard B. Johnson, involved seniority demands of the local union of the United Steel Workers of America, Clyde E. Dye, president of the local, said the walkout stemmed from grievances, including seniority and the doubling up on work.

ONE HIT, NO RUNS

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — It was just one of those days for Marlin Saline, 29, of Phoenix. He rammed his auto into a State Highway Patrol car, parked at the Nogales police station.

Saline, promptly nabbed, was charged with drunken driving.

Mills Against Try to Hamper Dr. Alford

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark) said today he will strenuously oppose any efforts to prevent Dr. Dale Alford of Little Rock from being seated as a Democratic member of the House.

"It is my intention to do everything I can to see that he (Alford) is seated as a Democrat and to see that he gets the best committee assignment possible," Mills told reporters.

Alford, running as a write-in candidate on a segregation platform, defeated the veteran Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) by 1,200 votes in Arkansas' Fifth Congressional District last Tuesday.

Hays has described himself as a moderate in racial matters. Alford's right to be seated as a Democrat has been challenged by Rep. John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.), who argued that the Little Rock physician ran as an independent, defeated the Democratic nominee and thus should be labeled an independent. He has indicated he would raise the question at a caucus of Democratic House members the day before the new Congress convenes.

A Independent designation might prevent Alford from getting a committee assignment — or at least an assignment to a major committee.

Mills said today that there is ample precedent for seating Alford as a Democrat even though he defeated the party nominee.

Mills said it is his position that Alford was elected as a Democrat and that the district is entitled to have its choice considered a member of the party.

Because of his position as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Mills heads the Democratic Committee on Committees which assigns new members to committee posts. He also is a possible choice to preside over the Democratic caucus.

Elizabeth, Eddie to Wed in Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor plans to marry singer Eddie Fisher within a month, the New York Post said today in a dispatch from Hollywood.

"That comes from the best of sources," said the story by Sidney Schenck.

Schenck said, N. Y. are visiting Misses Dolf and Florence McClanahan and Mrs. W. P. McGraw during November.

Mrs. John H. Hollis of Little Rock, Miss Katherine Arnold of Camden and Miss Margaret Arnold of Minden, La., were all guests of Mrs. John Arnold on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jewell and children, Frank and Linda, of Little Rock spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Al Jewell and with Frank Rider.

Mrs. W. P. McGraw was in Little Rock on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McGraw, Jr. and Jenne.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cole and Ann were visitors in Ruston, La. this past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Cornelius have returned from Little Rock, where Mr. Cornelius recently underwent surgery. They were brought home by their grandson, Garry Darwin, who is a senior at the University of Arkansas Medical School.

Capt. Martin L. Crow, who is with the Medical Corp at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, visited his parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Crow, on Sunday.

Mrs. C. Y. Washburn, Miss Mary Frances Billingsly, Miss Jeanie Washburn, and Chris Washburn, all of Cabot, and Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Sanders of Fayetteville were weekend guests of Mrs. Stith Davidson and Lon Sanders.

Attending the production of "Auntie Mame" in Little Rock, Saturday night, were a number of local people including Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaGrone, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Shults of Fulton, Martin Pool, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Branch of Little Rock, and Hal Branch.

Miss Lou-Nell Cox, a student at Hendrix College, Mrs. Mary Sue Evans, Luther Hollamon, and Remell Young of Conway were in the audience of "Auntie Mame" Saturday night, and they were the guests of Mrs. Dora Henry in Conway on Sunday.

After attending a medical meeting in Little Rock last week, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Branch also went to see the Saturday presentation of "Auntie Mame."

Lon Sanders had as his weekend guests his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders of Fayetteville. John is a chemical engineering teacher at the University of Arkansas.

DOROTHY DIX

Happiness is Different at Twenty and at Forty

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Will you please tell me how I can get something out of life again? I'm a widow of 42, well educated, attractive, an excellent homemaker. I have a good job but that isn't what I want. I want a husband and home to look after. A kitchen to run in, domestic errands to work. I've been a widow for six years. It seems the best part of my life is gone but I'd like to make something out of the rest of it. — Discouraged.

Dear Lady: The best part of every woman's life is gone when she reaches 42. She has passed the creative, productive years and nothing will bring them back. Those were the gay days of courtship, the happy months of early married life when you shared hopes and dreams with your husband, and finally the years when you knew satisfaction of accomplishment. You had one happy marriage. It's unlikely that you'll have another. This is a cold fact but must be faced. A woman of 42 has very little chance for marriage. There just aren't enough eligible men around.

While life doesn't repeat itself, it does go on. And the more realistically you face it, the happier you'll be. Stop this wishful thinking about matrimony. Don't be a waiting widow, and you'll find lots of friends. You are blessed with an interesting and rewarding job. If you phase happiness as avidly as you'd chase a man, you'll catch it. Give yourself a cheerful outlook by dressing cheerfully. Be a little extreme — not too, but enough to create interest in yourself. Wear smart clothes, color your hair, use a daring nail polish. Plan and save for a vacation off the beaten track. Satisfy your love for cooking by inviting friends in for a different Sunday brunch. There are so many things to do if you will just tackle them with the right attitude.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I'm in love with a soldier. He doesn't get home often, but when he does he expects me to go out on an hour's notice. I like him too much to break off. What shall I do? — Judy.

Dear Judy: Keep your hair waved, your hat handy and your prettiest outfit pressed. Since you do not want to break off with him, you'll have to adjust to the army.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I would like to see a "Woman for President Club" started. Would any of your readers be interested? If something isn't done about it soon we never will have a woman president and that will be a bad break for good women. — Frank P.

Dear Frank: Women haven't done any lagging to date and I'm sure when the time comes, and the right candidate presents herself, she'll find supporters. How come a man is willing to sponsor such a movement? I'm sure the ladies appreciate your interest but we are well able to take care of ourselves.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I have a very big problem. My mother is a dope addict, my father is in a mental institution, one brother is a Republican and the other is in jail. My sister's boy friend has run out on her leaving her pregnant.

Every since Eddie's September breakup with Debbie Reynolds, he and Liz have been practically inseparable. Skolsky wrote "He's always over at her house, and the crowd that travels with him is often there too."

He added that Fisher may seek a quick divorce in Mexico.

Lawyers for both are working to effect a settlement and Debbie is not playing hard to get along with Skolsky said. "In fact, it looks as if Debbie has some plans of her own and is as anxious as Eddie to get the divorce."

West Virginia School Blasted by a Bomb

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—An integrated school in a small northern West Virginia coal mining town was bombed today in early morning darkness.

Charles A. Stevenson, superintendent of Monongalia County schools, said there was no evidence the thunderous blast stemmed from racial troubles. The FBI began an immediate investigation.

The explosion ripped through the ground floor of the empty two-story brick schoolhouse in Osage, four miles northwest of Morgantown.

The school served about 250 pupils in the first three grades and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Classes for the fourth.

which will be blasted from Vandenberg Air Force Base missile grounds in California.

ninth and sixth grades are held in the old Osage Negro school.

In Pittsburgh, an FBI spokesman said: "It looks like a protest shot. From what we know now it looks like someone outside the community did it."

Stevenson said it would cost an estimated $50,000 to replace the structure.

It was the first such bombing incident reported in West Virginia.

Monongalia County was the first in West Virginia to integrate its schools and the 17-room Osage school is in the fourth year of integration.

Bombs have damaged five Jewish structures this year in three Southern states, and schools in two states in the South have been blasted.

Three large churches at Miami received telephoned bomb threats Sunday, but no bombs were found at any of the structures. Negroes recently had attended services uninvited at two of the churches—church Protestant. The third church threatened is Roman Catholic.

Cairo Denies Trying to Shoot Hussein

By JOSEPH E. DYMAN

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordanians celebrated today the safe return of King Hussein from what he charged was a United Arab Republic attempt to kill or capture him on a flight over Syria.

(U.S.R. officials in Cairo denied the charges. They said Hussein's plane lacked proper clearance to fly over the Syrian Province of the U.A.R.)

(President Nasser was reported to be convinced Syrian authorities acted properly but also to be upset by the incident, which worsened U.A.R.-Jordanian relations after a recent improvement.)

A national holiday was declared throughout Jordan to celebrate the escape of the 29-year-old king. Crowds surged through the narrow streets of Amman Monday night, firing roman candles and flares.

Hussein left Amman Airport Monday in a twin-engine transport plane bound for a European vacation. He later reported that two communist-built MIG jet fighters from Syria set upon him near Damascus, capital of the Syrian Province.

The MIGs tried to force his plane down but did not fire at it, the king said. His pilot dropped down near the ground for a wild hedgehopping flight back over rugged country to Amman.

Hussein, himself a flier, was riding as co-pilot. His pilot said the two MIGs were trying to get into position to fire at the Jordanian plane all the way back.

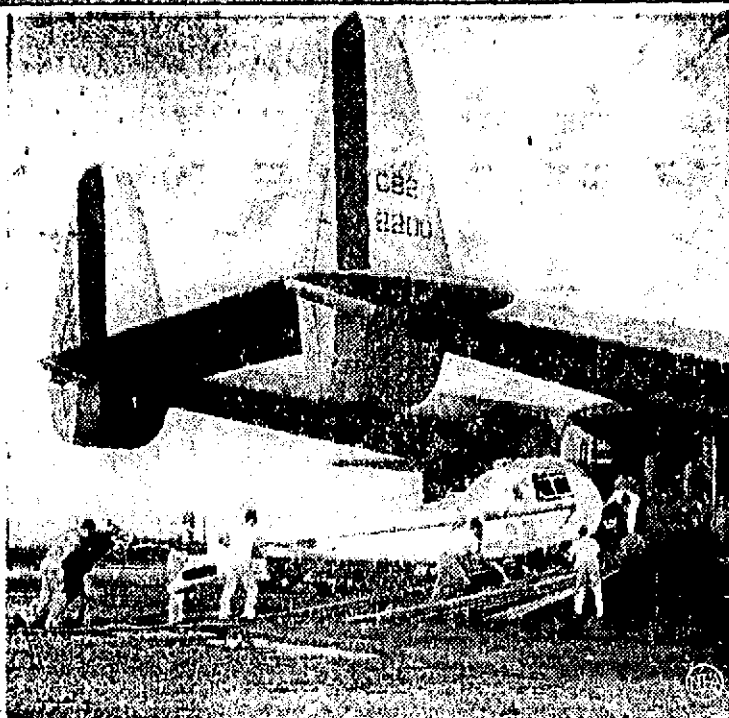

Immediately after his return Hussein accused the Syrian pilots of violating international law by intruding in Jordanian air space.

The charge was made in a broadcast to Jordan's 1,500,000 people, many of whom favor Nasser rather than Hussein. Cairo radio has called in the past for Hussein's assassination.

"They are making enemy attacks upon you in my person," Hussein said. He added that his government was taking "necessary steps" to maintain Jordan's prestige and dignity. He did not elaborate.

The broadcast came after a long emergency session with Hussein's cabinet. Parliament was called into session today.

Chapter XX

She glanced hurriedly at his tall dark figure, silent and immobile at the bedside, and then she felt Aunt Millicent's hand on her shoulder, pressing her back onto the pillow, and heard her say soothingly, "Lie back down, darling. Close your eyes."

Aunt Millicent had the towel in her other hand. Katherine thought, without understanding, as she laid her head down. It looks funny. There's something wrong with it. It's wet. But why would she get a wet towel to dry me off with?

Aunt Millicent leaned over her to her amazement, handed the towel across to Paul.

Paul wadded the towel thickly and brought it toward her face. She looked from one pair of eyes to the other, Paul's dark, Aunt Millicent's blue as glass; they might have been beads set in putty for any human look they possessed.

Aunt Millicent had one hand on each of her shoulders now, pressing her firmly back against the pillows, and with a quick swoop Paul pushed the towel down onto her face and held it there, shutting out light, air, all the safety on which she had counted so heavily.

For only a split second she felt an impulse to resist them—a sudden clear, concrete understanding that now, at this moment, they were murdering her, that she had trusted Aunt Millicent wrongly, of that she was in the very act of dying at their hands—but even before the impulse had formed in her inertia overcame her.

Two of them against one of her—they so invulnerable and she so defenseless.

She felt that her body had twitched and began to struggle, even though her mind had not told it to. The muscles and cells had defense mechanisms of their own; but the struggles were of no avail. The towel was clamped immovably onto her face, and Aunt Millicent's hands pressed heavily like a dead force on her shoulders, bearing her down and down and down. She might have been lying under the weight of a mountain. She lay still now; she was so terribly tired.

Her only links with the world were the breathing around her and the taste of the wet towel in her mouth.

Time had no meaning. The happy, moist darkness was a refuge, maybe that was even what made her happy. It was so peaceful, if only she could breathe—but it was even peaceful to stop breathing. She lay very still.

And because there was no sense of time—only the peace and happiness—she was startled when her pleasant floating was interrupted. The towel was lifted off her face. It annoyed her.

When someone spoke it made her very indignant. The voice said, "Well I thought I heard her come in." It took her a moment to realize that it was Amy's voice. Amy didn't know yet that she was dead.

Aunt Millicent said, "Shhh . . . she's gone to sleep."

She felt more indignant than ever. Aunt Millicent knew that she wasn't just asleep. She'd helped to kill her.

Amy said, "Gone to sleep in her stockings?"

"Yes."

"Why she never goes to sleep with her stockings on. I've never seen her do it. Not once. And you'd think she'd be trying to tear those off as fast as she could."

And Paul said abruptly, "You can go on to bed if you like, Amy. We can take care of her."

Why wouldn't Amy leave her alone? Why didn't they tell her that she was dead?

And suddenly the whole idea exploded in Katherine's mind. She wasn't dead at all. Maybe she'd been unconscious for a minute, but she wasn't dead. If she were dead she would be a spirit; she wouldn't be able to feel anything with her body. But she could feel Amy's hand on her shoulder; she could hear everyone talking around her. She couldn't be dead.

She opened her eyes and looked around the room. And at the sight of those two destroying faces watching her, her fright came back. She put her arm around Amy, feeling too weak to say anything, and leaned against her.

"It's all right, baby. Everything's all right. Old Amy'll take care of you. We'll put you to bed, and get you nice and warm. Come on, honey; let's go to your room."

Aunt Millicent said, still indecisively, "I think I can take care of her now. If you're tired,

Democrats Eye Loopholes in Tax Law

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Key congressional Democrats are weighing a serious drive in the new Congress to plug long-standing loopholes in the tax laws in an expected scramble for added revenues.

Faced with new government spending prospects and a massive budget deficit, tax experts regard such a move the only feasible alternative to a general tax increase.

No boost in either personal or business income tax rates is now contemplated.

Retiring Secretary of Commerce Weeks rehearsed Monday a suggestion for a uniform manufacturers' sales tax. He said it would permit some cuts in both corporation and individual income tax rates and still increase revenue. But key House members see such a move as at best a last-ditch device.

How far a loophole-plugging shakeup of the tax laws may go is uncertain.

Yet Democratic leaders of the House, where all tax legislation originates, appear to be committed to at least a start in this direction.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, in a post-election statement, called attention to tax law revision hearings to be undertaken by the House Ways and Means Committee when Congress convenes in January.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), Ways and Means Committee chairman, noted in a forecast of possible tax legislation published last September that "tax differentials and preferences now existing . . . cut our tax base by billions of dollars."

As areas of possible tax revision, Mills pinpointed the favorable tax treatment now afforded those who convert ordinary income to capital gains, allowances for depletion of natural resources like oil and coal, special rules favoring income of insurance companies, and the favorable tax treatment accorded farm and other cooperatives.

Wholesale elimination of tax preferences—some of them in the law 30 years or more—would be certain to stir up a political hornet's nest.

It would be a reversal of a congressional practice which for years has been to add exemptions, preferences and loopholes to the tax laws to satisfy the demands of special individual and business interests.

Now, however, influential Democrats say enactment of a loophole-plugging bill is a distinct possibility—even a probability—in the new Congress. It would be a two-year program calling for House passage, the first session, and final Senate action in 1960.

International Crisis May Be FORTHCOMING

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

If Nikita Khrushchev really means what he says about abolishing four power rule in Berlin and freedom of transport between West Berlin and West Germany, there's going to be a new and dangerous international crisis.

The Western powers stood up to the Soviet Union 10 years ago on this issue and forced a Russian backdown with the successful air lift.

So long as the Russians and talk about blockading Berlin things will be all right. But if they try actually to interfere with Western control over West Berlin or transport and communications between West Germany and West Berlin, there will be real trouble.

And this time, in contrast to the Berlin blockade, the United States, France and Britain could count on the full support of a powerful West Germany in any countermeasure.

What Khrushchev said at the Polish-Russian friendship rally in the Lenin Stadium in Moscow Monday was plain enough.

He said four-power rule in Berlin should be ended. He said the agreements under which the West has unhindered transport and communication rights between West Germany and West Berlin are obsolete and that the Communists should free themselves from them. He said the West should deal with East Germany directly on questions concerning East Berlin and stressed that the Soviet Union would consider an attack on East Germany as an attack on the Soviet Union.

This sounds menacing. If Khrushchev is really serious, then it would follow that the Russians will formally denounce four-power rule in Berlin and the agreements on which it is based, that the East Germans will interfere with surface and air transport into West Berlin and that the Soviet Union would regard any action of force by the West to break a blockade as an act of war.

The catch here is that, as Khrushchev no doubt knows, this would mean World War III. It seems questionable that he intends to start the world conflagration, at least in this way.

The West promptly let it be known that any Communist trouble over Berlin will be met with the same firmness shown at Quemoy.

The U. S. State Department bluntly rejected Khrushchev's proposal. A spokesman quoted recent U. S. statements of readiness to fight for West Berlin.

COAST TO COAST ONLY 1½ CENTS PER MILE FOR GAS!

Pontiac's new Tempest 420E V-8 sets the year's most important economy mark—Here's the story and what it means to you!

PONTIAC COAST-TO-COAST ECONOMY RUN
San Diego, California to Savannah, Georgia
COMPLETED OCTOBER 17, 1958
DISTANCE	2,442.7 MILES
DRIVING TIME	60.72 HOURS
FUEL CONSUMED	112.5 GALLONS
FUEL COST	$35.79
MILES PER GALLON	21.7 Average for entire trip
AVERAGE SPEED	40.2 MILES PER HOUR
COST PER MILE	1.465 CENTS

We asked one of America's most respected car testers—"Uncle Tom" McCall—to put a standard Pontiac Catalina Sedan with our new economy V-8 to the test.

And with only one specification—that the run would be exactly like you would drive coast to coast yourself—in mountains, in city traffic, across deserts, buying gas wherever the tank ran low.

And here's the phenomenal story in every complete detail—all officially certified by NASCAR, America's top automobile competition authority.

What does it mean to you?

Simply—and very importantly—this: For the first time, you can get deep-chested V-8 pep with better mileage than from many smaller so-called "economy cars" . . . and get it on regular fuel!

If you owned a Pontiac with this new Tempest 420E V-8 you'd be saving up to 5 cents a gallon on regular fuel. This new economy V-8 is optional at no extra cost on any Hydra-Matic Pontiac!

See your Pontiac dealer soon—and discover the newest in V-8 performance and economy!

LSU Still Rated Top Football Team in Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisiana State, Iowa and Army still rank 1-2-3 in The Associated Press college football poll this week but two of the three farthest tests in their games this Saturday.

The No. 1 Louisiana State Tigers, fresh from a 50-18 romp over Duke, tackle a Mississippi State eleven which could cause considerable trouble, and Iowa faces a frustrated Ohio State team which will try to regain a little of its lost prestige by knocking off the newly crowned Big Ten champion.

Only Army has what might be called a breather. The Cadets, who defeated Rice Saturday by virtue of a long hope pass in the final minutes, take on Villanova, which is not figured to cause too much trouble.

Texas Christian moved up from 11th to ninth on its 36-8 victory over Marquette.

Louisiana State got 95 first place votes in piling up 1,532 points this week. Iowa was a first choice of 52 voters and its 1,441 points gave it a comfortable margin over Army, which got 909 points without a first-place vote.

The top 10 teams, with the first place votes in parentheses:

1. Louisiana State (95) 1,532
2. Iowa (52) 1,441
3. Army 999
4. Auburn (6) 976
5. Wisconsin 786
6. Oklahoma (3) 783
7. Mississippi (2) 535
8. Purdue 389
9. Texas Christian 287
10. Air Force 249

Second 10: North Carolina (2) 218; Syracuse 179; Northwestern 166; Pittsburgh 152; Southern Methodist 67; Ohio State 59; Rice 53; Florida 37; Rutgers (1) 35; Georgia Tech 19.

The British North American (which was the beginning of Canada) in 1807, united Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Otto Graham Says Pro Football a Business

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Otto Graham, one of the top-ranking quarterbacks in football's history, says that football — college or pro — is a business, not a sport.

Graham, who directed the College All Stars to victory over the pro Detroit Lions in his first coaching effort last August, spoke here Monday night at an annual sports fans' banquet.

He said he had received a few coaching offers, including one from a Midwestern college. "But I'm not interested," said the former Cleveland Browns quarterback. "Let's face it, football's a business, not a sport."

Pass Defense for Porks Who Tackle SMU

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles has scheduled a week of hard work on pass defense for the Arkansas Razorbacks who meet Southern Methodist University in a Southwest Conference football clash here Saturday.

Broyles hopes to stop the aerial fireworks of SMU's two top quarterbacks, Don Meredith and Billy Dunn.

"Every one knows they know how to throw the ball," the Arkansas coach said.

Yesterday, the Razorbacks heard a scouting report from assistant coach Wilson Matthews who described the Mustangs as "the best team I've seen play this year."

As for Meredith, Matthews said "he's everything they say he is. He can pass, of course, and he can run with the ball, too. He's just a real good football player."

At Dallas, SMU scout Clyde Van Sickle reported on Arkansas' 30-13 triumph last weekend over Hardin-Simmons.

The Razorbacks are "too fast for human beings," he said.

The Razorbacks came out of the Hardin-Simmons game with no injuries and are expected to be at full strength against SMU. For Arkansas, it will be homecoming, SMU's No. 2 fullback, Milt Tackney, probably will be out of action Saturday because of a bruised hip he suffered while the Mustangs were beating Texas A&M 23-6 last weekend.

Fishing Conditions Around Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Here is a fishing report and forecast from the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission:

Lake Norfolk: M. Water clear; Lake Norfolk: M. Water clear; Lake Hamilton: Water clear; black bass fair to good on artificial bait; crappie fair on minnows; bream good on crickets and worms.

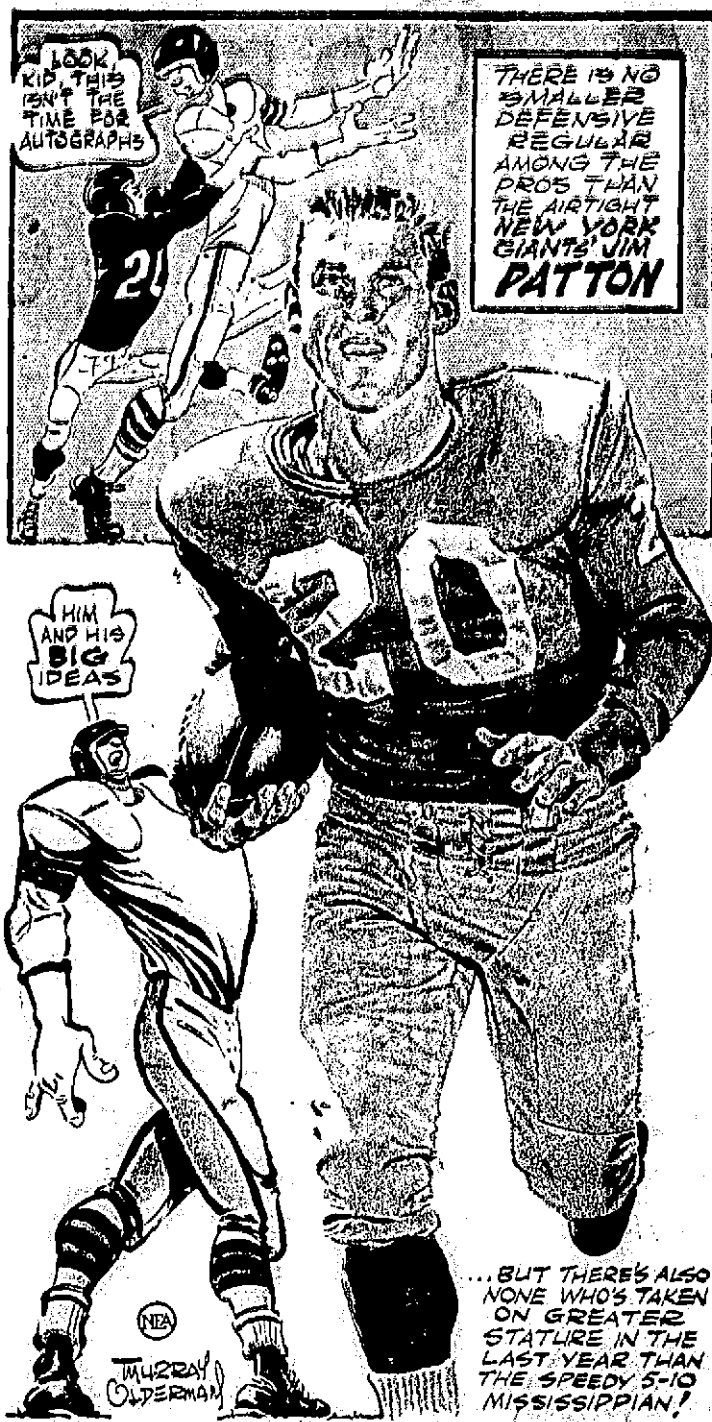

Bull Shoals Lake: No report; Lake Ouachita: Black bass fair on live and artificial bait; bream good on crickets and worms; Lake Greason: Largemouth bass fair on plastic worms and artificial lures.

Lake Conway: No report; Lake Catherine: Water clear; bass fair to good on artificial bait; crappie fair on minnows; bream good on crickets and worms.

10 Horses Are Entered in $100,000 Race

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The $100,000 Washington, D.C. International will have its seventh and greatest running today with Ireland's Ballymoss favored to become the 1938 horse of the world.

Ten horses from seven countries were invited to the stately mile and one-half global gallop on Laurel Park's sharp-turn grass oval. With the finest field ever lined up for the race, worldwide interest has mounted to a peak for the annual Veterans Day battle.

Good weather could lure the biggest crowd in Laurel history. The record is 33,715, set in 1935 when France's Master Being won the International.

Ballymoss has the credentials, and looks the champion. However, no favorite has yet won the race, which is the final jewel in a world crown. Ballymoss can complete the sweep for his Philadelphia owner, John McShain. The colt won Europe's two richest races, the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Ascot, where he collected $66,167, and the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe at Longchamp where he netted $106,100.

Although early odds listed Ballymoss the 6 to 5 favorite, latest word from London was that he was quoted as a 4 to 5 shot.

There are big question marks from all corners of the world, including two Soviet 3-year-olds who have emerged from behind the Iron Curtain for a crack at the Western thoroughbreds. Garnir and Zaryad will run as an entry at odds of around 20 to 1. Garnir won the Moscow Derby. Zaryad was runner-up.

Post time is 3:45 p.m., and a taped film of the race will be televised — NBC — from 4:30-5 p.m. EST because air time couldn't be cleared for a live show.

Warrior Cager Closing in on Scoring Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh's Paul Arizin, a two-time National Basketball Assn. scoring champion, spurred during the past week to move into second place behind defending All-Star George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons.

The jump shooting specialist of the Philadelphia Warriors advanced from eighth with 92 points in three games. This boosted Arizin's season output to 190 points in seven games. He ranks sixth among the all-time NBA scorers.

According to figures released today by league headquarters, Yardley still leads with 210 points in nine games. Gene Shue of Detroit, who collected a season's high of 45 against Boston Sunday, is third with 178. Rookie Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis holds fourth with 177.

Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks runner-up a week ago, played only one game and fell to fifth with 175 points in six games. His 22.2 average is tops followed by Arizin's 27.1 points per game mark.

Kenny Sears of the New York Knicks collected on 41 per cent of his field goal tries in his last three games to take over the lead in points a season's mark of 502.

Figures Hope Will Easily Take Arkadelphia

By JOHN R. STARR

El Dorado goes after the big apple this week but Hot Springs stands in sturdy dissent to the Wildcats' bid for their first Big Nine Conference title in history.

The Cats already have clinched a share of the diadem and can take it all by tying or beating the Trojans. A Hot Springs victory Friday night would put the Trojans in the role of wreckers for the second straight week. They eliminated Fort Smith from the race last week.

However, we do not see it that way.

For instance: El Dorado 28, Hot Springs 7: A piece of a championship just won't satisfy this fine Oller team which could have the thing in the bag already except for a poor showing against Little Rock Central. The Wildcats don't intend to slip again and won't, unless Hot Springs plays over its head like last week.

Blytheville 20, Texarkana 14: The loser of this one will share the cellar with Pine Bluff. The Chicks had the bottom all to themselves the last two years and would, in all generosity, be willing to leave it for someone else this season.

Fort Smith 14, North Little Rock 13: This one has all the portents of a real donnybrook. Both last heartbreakers last week. The winner gets the consolation of third place.

Little Rock Central 35, Pine Bluff 7: Not even in the deaths of Tiger tragedy can we see how this Pine Bluff team can pull out a victory. But this one is tradition tinged and the possibility is always there.

Little Rock Hall 30, Jacksonville 6: So the Warriors move within two victories of an unbeaten season. But rugged Forrest City and Central stand just ahead.

Also: Fayetteville over Springfield, Mo. Parkway; Van Buren over Harrison; Siloam Springs over Rogers; Subiaco over Russellville; Forrest City over West Memphis; Helena over Jonesboro; Newport over Shiloh; Wynne over McCarty; Conway over Benton; Mablevale over Bryant; Malvern over Smackover; Hope over Arkadelphia; Camden over Mongolia; and Crosssett over Camden Fairview.

Braves to Play 52 Night Games

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics announced today they will play 52 night games at home next season, a record high for the American League.

The A's will open at home against Cleveland April 10. The home schedule provides 71 games to be played on 75 dates. There are 13 Sunday games and two doubleheaders against Chicago on July 4 and Washington on Aug. 23.

hitting 10 of 12 free throw losses, retains his supremacy in that department with a 41 average. Teammate Bill Russell has scored the most points, 130, and the Pistons' Dick McGuire leads in assists with 68.

Pressure Being Put on Some Grid Coaches

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Some college football coaches are beginning to sweat a bit from the heat of burned up alumni who can't understand why their teams can't win consistently, or even at all.

Some other coaches, because they just inherited teams with dubious talent, are serving a year's grace, but are marked men if they don't produce a winner next season.

The Big Ten is having the greatest share of coaching headaches. The time honored symbol of a coach being hung in effigy by students is becoming so commonplace one begins to wonder if it might not be the outcome of a post fraternity party prank rather than the honest-to-goodness ire of football-crazy students.

Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty is the latest to see his image hanging from a tree. It happened last Saturday night after MSU was upset by Indiana 6-0. The Spartans have a 2-4-1 record, but were picked to finish fourth in the preseason poll by The Associated Press of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Take the case of Ohio State's Woody Hayes. His Bucks, picked in the preseason poll as the national champion, have a 4-1-2 mark. But they have lost one and tied a pair in their last three outings. They lost the Big Ten crown to Iowa last week, though they don't face the Hawks until this Saturday.

The culmination of these displays came Sunday at Michigan when Bennie Oosterbaan, in his 11th year as coach of the Wolverines, was rumored to have quit, effective the end of the season. He was "hung" three weeks ago after Northwestern drubbed his team 55-24.

Murry Warmath, Minnesota coach whose team sports a 0-7 record and has lost 10 straight since last November, is in the deepest jeopardy. He minced no words recently saying that the alumni are just as much to blame for their failure to provide the Gophers with adequate gridiron talent.

Down South, Duke's Bill Murray is supposedly on the firing line. He was "hung" after Louisiana State beat the Blue Devils 50-18 Saturday night for their fifth loss against two wins.

Even at Notre Dame, which has not known many coaching changes over the years, Terry Brennan is reported in trouble. The Irish have a 4-3 record, losing 29-10 to Pitt Saturday.

7 Schools on List for the Cotton Bowl

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP) — Seven schools are on the list from which the Cotton Bowl expects to pick its visiting team but which is the host prospect isn't being revealed.

Mississippi Air Force Academy, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, North Carolina, Army and Louisiana State are on the list. Army is doubtful since Rice may win the Southwest Conference championship and West Point never has indicated it would accept a bowl bid anyway.

The Southwest Conference champion is host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Army played Rice last week, beating the Owl 14-7.

Louisiana State can't be called a strong possibility in view of its closeness to the Sugar Bowl.

Foia R. McMurtry, chairman of the Cotton Bowl selection committee, said today some of the schools on the list already had been contacted and scouted.

Rice and Texas Christian are tied for the lead in the Southwest Conference race with 3-0 records. Southern Methodist still is in contention with 2-1.

Mississippi, with a 7-1 record, the only loss was to Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team, last Tennessee and Mississippi State to play. SYRACUSE, 4-1, is

Workmen Are Entitled to Board Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled 6-3 today that workmen who pay board and lodging at job sites away from their established residences may now include the cost as business expenses on income tax returns.

The court's decision was announced in an unsigned opinion. Justice Douglas wrote a dissent joined by Justices Black and White.

The case was brought by three North Carolina workmen. Had they won it, the principle would have applied to thousands of other workers at a cost of many millions of dollars to the U. S. Treasury.

The three workmen were James E. Peurlfoy, a welder with a residence at Kure Beach, N. C.; Paul V. Stines, a plumber; and John S. Hall, a welder, both residents of Raleigh, N. C.

In another action involving potentially many millions of dollars in revenues, the high court refused to consider a claim by R. H. Macy & Co. Inc., New York, retailer, for at least $1,008,750 refund of federal income and excess profits taxes. Macy's appealed after losing in the U. S. Circuit Court in New York.

The case hinged on Macy's right to use for certain years prior to 1954 the so-called LIFO system for figuring the value of inventories. This last in, first out, system operates in favor of the merchant-taxpayer in periods rising prices.

Among other actions, the high court:

Refused to permit California to use in the highest court to bar enforcement of State of Washington from enforcing California said discriminated against California wines. The case had aroused major interest in other wine-producing states. New York filed a brief in support of California's move.

Agreed to rule on whether the Federal Power Commission may approve a natural gas pipeline project without determining the validity of rates to be paid for the supply of gas. The commission, without approving a supply price, approved a plan by Natural Gas Pipeline Co. to extend its line in Oklahoma and Texas to gas for sale in the Chicago area. Oklahoma Natural Gas Co., a competing buyer, challenged the commission's procedure.

Plan Set Up for Highway Billboards

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks today announced final federal standards for regulating billboard advertising networks.

States which agree to abide by the minimum regulations will receive a bonus of a half of 1 per cent of the cost of the new roads. The federal government already pays 90 per cent.

The standards, based on a controversial provision of the 1958 highway law, do not forbid all outdoor advertising. Billboards are erected within 12 miles of highways, motels, filling stations and other businesses which advertise. Signs will be more than standard size, however, and their numbers will be limited.

Some of the 41,000-mile system is exempt from regulation. The standards generally will not apply to roads running through incorporated municipalities, commercial and industrial areas and along old routes. Weeks said there will be no billboard control along at least 25 per cent of the new highways.

At no point would more than two billboards be permitted in any one-mile stretch.

Says Russia Has Missile Glider

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Soviet Union is developing an intercontinental rocket glider with range up to 12,500 miles, a space scientist said today.

Dr. Everett T. Wellmers of Bell Aircraft Corp. said the Soviet unmanned three-stage test vehicle is designed to reach the heart of the United States.

Such a glider also would be capable of landing on Mars or Venus, he added, but would not be useful on the Moon, because the moon has no air.

The United States also is working on such a glider. The Air Force last June awarded contracts for the Dyna-Soar, a system of vehicles exploiting this principle at hypersonic speeds.

Another space scientist argued that this country does not need such a machine in its defense arsenal. Dr. Verneer von Braun, director of development for the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, told reporters rocket gliders are important for short-range defense, but other weapons are necessary to counter an intercontinental ballistic missile.

later accused Beck of having stolen the money. The party labor leader invoked the Fifth Amendment before the committee, but said in a televised interview here prior to his committee appearance that he borrowed the money and paid it back.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Jack Obenour, directing the government's case, read a 21-page statement to the jury in which he said the source of Beck's money is not at issue, only his taxes.

Obenour said the government will use the net-worth method to prove Beck cheated on his taxes, showing that he became steadily richer over the years but his tax returns failed to reflect it.

Beck, reputed to be a millionaire, acquired much of his wealth by investing in Seattle real estate.

Lynda Conrad, died Nov. 2. Ballistic Police Chief Jack O'Brien would say only that "a statement was made and a charge was filed."

"Authorities questioned the woman for about 10 hours before the charge was filed shortly after midnight."

Mrs. Conrad's attorney, William M. Hatten, said "the whole thing has been instigated by the insurance companies."

He said $750 was paid by an insurance company after the death of another Conrad child last May, but that there was no insurance on Lynda. The couple has one living child, Robert, 4.

Others who died include Richard, 3 months, and George Jr., 20 months. Richard died Oct. 9, 1956, and George last May 15.

Mrs. Conrad told investigators in May that George died shortly after she found Robert stomping the baby on her living room floor.

Pence Justice W. C. Ragan said he would not set bond until Mrs. Conrad has been examined by the Harris County psychiatrist.

high present appropriations.

The center is submitting its proposal for reduced request for extra help and maintenance to allow for higher salaries.

The council approved the reduced figures without the pay raises, recommending an annual budget of $120,700—nearly $5,000 below the center's present appropriation.

The Geological Commission got the budget it requested — $255,755 a year — but $10,000 that the commission had sought to divert to salaries was restored to the topographical mapping service. The commission had asked raises for 21 of its 22 employees.

Work was completed on a $6,102,000 annual budget for the State Hospital, which first was approved last Thursday. The proposal was changed yesterday to provide for two chief security officers rather than one.

Johnson Invites in Democratic Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has invited 13 new Democratic senators to meet with him at his ranch in Johnson City, Tex., next month.

Confirming this, one senator-elect said it is his understanding Johnson wants to canvass with the group the nature of legislation in which they are most interested.

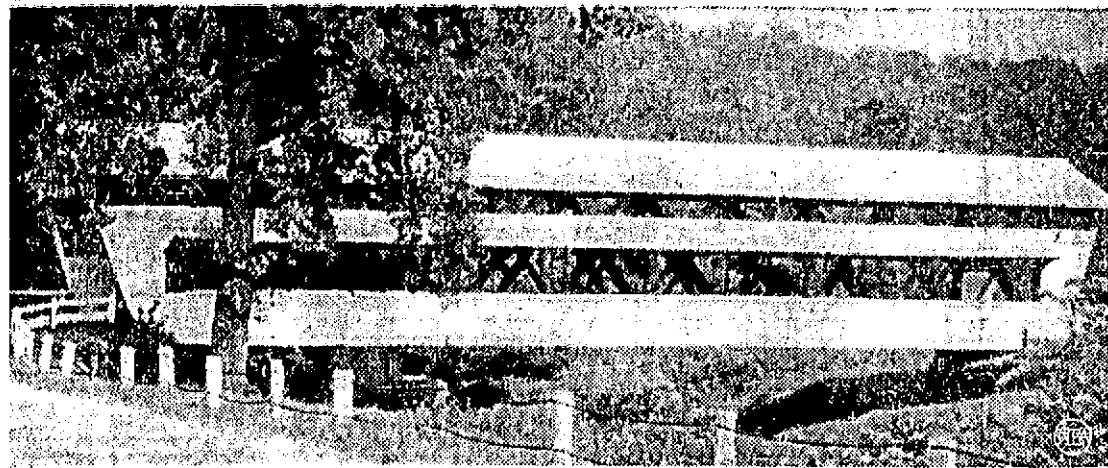

The move may also indicate a desire by the party leader to smooth out in advance any rough spots that might threaten to group in filing the new members into the Democratic organization.

There is no indication that any of the newly elected Democrats expect to oppose Johnson's continuance as the Senate's majority leader.

The Texas meeting will precede a formal party organization conference early in January about the time Congress convenes.

The canopy covers an area half the size of a football field.

In the American colonies, restrictions upon voting were very severe. Only owners of property, and in some colonies only landowners, could vote. There were numerous religious qualifications. The payment of taxes conditioned the right to vote in Pennsylvania, Delaware and Georgia. During the first years of the United States fewer than one-fourth of the population could qualify.

TCU, Rice and SMU Still in Title Running

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas Christian and Rice, with Southern Methodist right behind, won't grumly back to Southwest Conference football practice today with one eye on the game to the Cotton Bowl.

TCU and Rice are leading the league with 3-0 records while SMU is still in the running with 2-1. The conference champion gets the hot spot in the Cotton Bowl New Year's day. The remainder of the schedule favors Rice but in this league that doesn't mean much.

The Rice Owls play Texas A&M this week. Yesterday they went through a light limbering-up session in sweat clothes and watched movies of their 14-7 loss to Army. Trainers reported no injuries.

A&M had the injury list blues. Charley Milstead, top offensive tailback, was doubtful because of a hurt knee, blocking back Dick Gay is out for the season with a bad knee. End Travis Nevill also was hurt and will miss the Rice game.

The Aggies ran in sweat clothes yesterday and watched movies of the 33-0 loss to SMU.

TCU promoted right halfback Carlos Vacek and quarterback Larry Dawson to the second string. Both were on the third unit last week when TCU crushed Marquette 30-8.

TCU meets Texas this week and both the Christians and Rice are favored to win and met for the showdown Nov. 22 at Houston.

Texas worked out lightly with quarterback Bobby Lackey on the sidelines. He and Rene Ramirez, speedy halfback, may miss the TCU game. Coaches studied movies of the 20-15 victory over Baylor last week.

SMU, clinging to an outside chance, prepared for Arkansas. Clyde Van Sickle, SMU scout, reported the resurging Razorbacks are "too fast for human beings."

Mike Hackney, No. 2 fullback, probably will miss the Razorback game with a bruised hip.

Arkansas started pass defense work in an effort to halt the Mustang aerial attack. Coach Frank Broyles said his team was in good shape and no lineup changes were planned.

The Baylor Bears have an open date and took yesterday off.

TCU has Texas, Rice and SMU left to play, all toughies. Rice has erratic A&M, TCU and off-beaten Baylor on the schedule. SMU plays Arkansas, Baylor and TCU.

Believes Next Move Is Up to NAACP

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A legal observer here thinks the next move in the Little Rock integration controversy is up to the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

"Logically the next step is for NAACP attorneys to accept the invitation of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals and seek from District Judge John Miller a mandatory injunction for the high schools to be operated under the integration plan," said the observer, an attorney who asked not to be identified.

The attorney felt any mass resignation by the present school board members would solve nothing. He said it would simply "take the heat off the individuals who resign. The court ruling specifically applies the integration plan to successors of the present board."

The school board's logical defense is to cite state legislation, a legal source said. He referred to a 1958 Arkansas act which states that if a school is closed by a vote of the people against integration and under a gubernatorial proclamation, the school must remain closed until the governor proclaims it open again.

"I wonder," he added, "if anyone who may be thinking of running for the board next month realizes that by the very fact he runs he tacitly accepts the court ruling and by his candidacy tacitly agrees to follow the integration plan."

The appellate court in its ruling yesterday pointed out in a footnote that the board has "an obligation under the previous general order against them to move forward within their official powers, to carry out the integration plan."

Suppose the NAACP asked for a mandatory injunction for reopening the schools. How could the school board counter?

Another School Asks Student Aid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Another school applied for state aid for a transfer student from Little Rock yesterday.

The Norman School in Montgomery County asked for aid for one student.

An Education Department spokesman said requests had been received from 78 school districts for aid for 283 transfer students, shut out of Little Rock high schools when they were closed against integration.

Deadline for applying for aid for the month of October will be Nov. 15.

NAACP asked for an injunction and the school board cited the legislative act, "this would automatically join the issue of whether the acts are constitutional. This would set up a jurisdictional question and in the past judges have sought a three-judge district court to determine such points."

U. S., Russia Defines Views on Attacks

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union today defined their views on how the 10-nation conference on surprise attack problems should proceed with its work.

A communique issued at the conclusion of a closed-door meeting said statements were made by the heads of the American and Soviet delegations. The communique gave no indication of a meeting of minds.

The communique defined the conference as one "of experts for the study of possible measures which might be helpful in preventing surprise attack and for preparation of a report thereon to governments."

That definition corresponds to the Western view of the objectives.

The Western side glumly noted that Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov, speaking at a public session, brought in a whole list of cold war issues. The West regards such matters as entirely outside the scope of this conference.

The first big hurdle in meetings of this type is to secure agreement on the order of business.

The whole question of surprise attacks is so complex observers expect several days at least to be consumed in working out an agenda.

John McClellan's Father Very Ill

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Isaac S. McClellan, 87-year-old father of Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), remained in serious condition at a Pine Bluff hospital today.

He suffered a stroke after a heart attack last weekend.

Hospital attendants said his condition was slightly improved but still serious.

Sen. McClellan was scheduled to return to Washington today. Another son, Postmaster Joe McClellan of Pine Bluff, said the family held little hope for the recovery of the elder McClellan, who is a resident of Sheridan.
